

Self Storage - Multi Level Buildings

Multi-level self storage buildings are a great way to capitalise on the available land on your site.

G&M Stor-More design and build customised multi-level self storage buildings with functionality and profitability in mind.

G&M Stor-More utilise a range of partitioning and mezzanine floor systems in their multi level self storage buildings that have been designed specifically for the self storage industry. These systems have been designed with consideration of the functionality required in a self storage facility and allow for a building design that will ensure your facility utilises the available space in the most economical way.

We'll help you stor-more.
